To restart the machine, turn it OFF, wait at least 10 seconds, and then turn it ON. For instructions on how to turn the machine ON and OFF, see Chapter 2, “Before You Start Using the Machine,” in the User’s Guide. In this case, consult your network administrator. If this information cannot be obtained from the DHCP, BOOTP, or RARP server, the settings entered in this step are used. If you do not plan to use one of these settings, it is recommended that you turn them off. The machine can use up to seven of the following IPv6 addresses A link local address is automatically set using a specific prefix fe80 and an interface identifier generated from the MAC address of the machine. When the machine is using the functions of IPv6, one link local address is always registered. This problem may be resolved by delaying the startup of network communications for the machine.
